

BUY WITH CONFIDENCE FROM PEACHTREE RESIDENTIAL

We have exciting news about the good things going on at Peachtree Residential. While we understand the uncertainty that COVID-19 creates, we continue to build and sell beautiful new homes in Charlotte and Atlanta. In fact, now is a great time to buy a new home!

- New home supply is historically low, and the choices are even fewer for available homes in the best school districts. We have inventory and presale opportunities in quality neighborhoods located in the best areas of town.
- Interest rates are historically low, meaning affordability is at an all-time high! You can afford more home for your money.
- Ask us about rate lock assistance. Our preferred lenders are ready to serve you with unique programs to cater to your needs. Construction to perm loans are available and of interest to many of our presale buyers.
- If you prefer to tour inventory homes by yourself, many of our homes have NterNow access locks that allow you to view the homes on your own schedule. Learn more about instant access to those homes by clicking here.
- Homebuilding is considered an essential business activity, and we are working as hard as ever to build both inventory and presold homes in our neighborhoods. It is spring selling season, so there is lots of building activity and new homeowners are moving in!
- Our Model Homes and Sales Centers are open by appointment only for you to experience our great designs and to meet with our Sales Managers. Visit PeachtreeResidential.com for contact information and to set up an appointment.
- Our website PeachtreeResidential.com has an abundance of information on our neighborhoods, our gallery of homes and features, and specifics about our locations (schools, shopping, etc.)
- We are taking preventative measures to keep you healthy. High-touch surfaces in our models and sales centers are wiped down between visitors with Lysol, and we are spacing appointments out in order to meet social distancing requirements.

With over 30 years of homebuilding experience and thousands of satisfied customers, Peachtree Residential provides the best quality new homes with the latest designs in the best locations in our markets. We encourage you to visit us in person or online to learn about all of the good things going on at Peachtree Residential!
